

THE FIGHT FOR SENATOR.

The Senatorial battle has become for the present a more petty affair in the Legislature, save the Phila Times of Saturday, as no election is expected this week, and a number of members have paired and gone to their homes. There will be probably less than a quorum.

The return of the Legislature on Monday will bring out the full strength of the three opposing elements in the Senatorial contest, and everything will be decided during the present week. The solution of the problem is in the hands of the Democrats.

It is obvious that Quay cannot be elected by Republican votes, and the Democrats must determine to elect their votes solidly for a Republican of such character and ability as to be acceptable to the Independent Republicans, and thus give them an opportunity to vindicate their position.

In other words, the Democrats must elect a Republican to elected Senator, or they must leave Quay to elect himself if he can, and failing in that, presently name his successor, in which case the Democrats would be entirely unfetted as to the Senatorial election.

It is clearly settled now that the only possible hope of re-electing Senator Quay rests upon his power to corrupt Democrats. But we feel convinced that this former hope will fail, and the only chance for the Democrats of this State will be to present to the Legislature a candidate who will win by a large majority.

The light vote at the joint ballot of the Legislature for United States Senator Saturday, when only 139 votes were cast, and when 97 votes would have secured the election of any candidate receiving that number, should serve as a warning. Unless there is extreme vigilance in securing pairs for every absentee there is danger of a surprise.

The Anti-Quay representatives especially, who are themselves divided into two equally opposed camps, should eternal vigilance is the price of safety as well as of success. They cannot too soon agree upon a scheme of fusion and strike while the iron is hot.

To await the retirement of Senator Quay and then endeavor to elect a successor, is to surrender the battle without necessity and without advantage. — Phila Record.

Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20, 1899. No man deserves any credit for doing the proper thing under compulsion, and there never was a clearer case of compulsion under compulsion than Mr. McKinley's order for the centennial of the Commission General Egan, for his duty abuse of General Miles. Mr. McKinley was disposed to allow Secretary Alger to try to push it up by his own way, which would not have been up with him, but he was not to be so.

IN THE REAR OF SOCIETY.

One of the most successful affairs of the season was James Harvey White's reception held Wednesday afternoon at his home. Clyde Scott, one of October's brides, who with her husband has recently come to Gettysburg to share her mother's home.

The invitations included both men and women, and contrary to the custom of many of the society, no ladies were included in afternoon invitations, they made a full representation among the chain of letters. The reception was thoroughly enjoyed afternoon tea, which is usually given to the guests, and the guests were very much pleased.

After the Fever.

Little Girl Was Weak and Could Not Eat—Hood's Sarsaparilla Gave Her Appetite and Strength—Eczema Disappearing.

"My little girl was sick for several months with typhoid fever, and after she got over it she was weak and did not eat. My husband got her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, saying it would make her eat and give her strength—and it did. She had taken it only a short time when she was well and strong. Everyone who has been sick and is suffering from weakness because she was so weak and thin, but now is fat and healthy. I am giving her Hood's Sarsaparilla now for eczema and the trouble is fast disappearing. My husband has taken it for rheumatism and it has done him good." Mrs. C. W.
